ASTHMA, ALLERGIES AND ANAPHYLAXIS

The separate deaths of two children in Ontario schools accelerated the need to establish policies, procedures and training aimed to protect children while at school who have life-threatening conditions such as asthma and severe allergies.

In May of 2005, Ontario passed legislation to protect children with life threatening allergies known as Bill 3 or Sabrina's Law. Sabrina's Law is named after Sabrina Shannon, a 13 year old girl who died while at school as a result of anaphylactic shock. It was determined that her illness was aggravated by eating french fries from her school cafeteria that were cross contaminated with a life-threatening allergen.

In April 2015, Ontario passed Bill 20, a private member's bill more commonly known as Ryan's Law. Ryan's Law is named after Ryan Gibbons, a 12 year old boy who died after suffering an asthma attack during recess at school. Ryan did not have his inhaler with him since it was kept in the school office and he couldn't get to it in time.
