

CONCUSSION AWARENESS, PREVENTION AND ACTION

In addition to Rowan's Law (2018), Ontario's Ministry of Education has developed a policy (PPM 158) which outlines a minimum standard for all school boards to follow regarding the prevention of concussions and appropriate follow-through steps when a concussion is suspected or diagnosed.

It is very important to a student's long-term health that educators, coaches, volunteers and other caregivers understand concussions and the steps to take if you suspect a student has suffered a concussion.

Appropriate policies and procedures must be in place to help minimize the risk of concussion as well as how to effectively guide a student safely back to learning and physical activity after a concussion has been diagnosed.
